

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

To top it all off, some of us already pay too much for our landline phone service and if it were to increase we will not be able to keep service. I and alot of my friends are on a fixed income or at least low income families so how are we supposed to pay higher prices. I use my cell phone for emergencies. In case I am out of town and break down or my children need me for something and I am not at home. Please don't increase rates. we NEED phone service weither it be landline or wireless.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

Rebecca Spann
